

Adult Education Series • 2011-2012

PRESENTED BY JOHANNA STEEGMANS

This series will help you understand the transformation of the child's psyche through the paradigms in Waldorf education. Open to the public.

Thursdays 7 pm

Educating the Will Oct 27 GRADE SCHOOL CAMPUS

Throughout early childhood, children incorporate a vast number of archetypes – cultural, ancestral and personal. Join us to explore how to help children become confident, like Max, in the place “Where the Wild Things Are.”

Educating Through Feeling Feb 2 GRADE SCHOOL CAMPUS

In the grade school years, the stories of the psyche's journey become more accessible, and terrors of the night reveal themselves as just “Heffalumps.” The “wild things” become recognizable and manageable as they show the archetypal nature of the temperaments. Help children navigate the enchanted terrain of “The Hundred Acre Wood” without getting stuck in the grey mood of Eeyore, or wrapped up in Tigger's unstoppable bouncing.

New Horizons Through Thinking Apr 19 HIGH SCHOOL CAMPUS

“I've a feeling we're not in Kansas any more.” In high school things have changed. Dorothy has to make her way in a new world. The Tin Woodsman, the Cowardly Lion and the Scarecrow each have their own quest to pursue. Learn to support youngsters on “The Yellow Brick Road to the Emerald City.”

THIS EVENT ONLY: AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Grade School Campus
2728 NE 100th Street
Seattle, WA 98125

High School Campus
160 John Street
Seattle, WA 98109

More Information
206.524.5320
seattlewaldorf.org